

ANNUAL DRIVE FOR SCOUTING IS ANNOUNCED

Local Campaign Will Start Wednesday; Need Is Urgent

The citizens of Dixon will be asked to support the Boy Scout program with their money on Wednesday of next week. Chairman of the finance committee, Frank D. Stephan, who is president of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, has the assurance of six major organizations in the city that they will furnish workers for the campaign. Captains of the different teams are as follows: Kiwanis Club, Gerald Jones; Chamber of Commerce, William Cahill; Elks Club, William Nixon; American Legion, Rae Arnold; Knight of Columbus, William Jones; Gyro Club, Fred Chapman. These various organizations will furnish some seventy workers who will meet next Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock for breakfast in a local restaurant. The workers are asked to give two hours of their time to call on the 564 contributors to the fund last year.

Headquarters Open
Campaign headquarters have been opened at the Chamber of Commerce where George D. Driesbach, Scout Executive, and his secretary are rapidly preparing the necessary publicity and doing the organizing work preparatory to the drive. Thursday they mailed the report of last year's work to 560 citizens of Dixon that contributed to the fund. Their report was very gratifying showing that 3616 men and boys are now Scouts and Scout workers; that 949 Scouts were in camp several days or more; that 2539 various badges were awarded for promotion; in rank that 7000 columns of news space was donated in the various newspapers throughout the Blackhawk Area, that there are 354 Scouts who live on farms; that 472 adult men were trained as Scout Masters and Assistant Scout Masters and that they are giving on the average of two nights a week to the Scout program without pay; that in the several divisions tons of clothing and food were collected and distributed to the poor and needy by various Scout troops. Surely this type of work deserves the commendation and financial support of every citizen in Dixon.

Dixon Greatly Honored
One of Dixon's industrial leaders, John Ralston, President of the Reynolds Wire Company, has been elected President of the Blackhawk Area Council. This is the highest office that can be held in the local Boy Scout Work and Mr. Ralston, who is Vice President of Lee County last year is to be congratulated for the honor accorded to him of guiding this patriotic and much needed program for boys. Mr. Ralston will be chairman of the Initial Gifts Committee, who will be responsible to see the 34 people whose gifts last year totaled $1381. It is the hope of the Finance chairman, that this work will be completed before the drive opens on Wednesday morning, October 12.

To Pastors and Priests
Yesterday letters were distributed to the pastors of all churches in this city asking them to support the Boy Scout Movement this year as they have done in the past. The copy of the letter produced below shows the anxiety of the President of the United States in the success of the Boy Scout movement. This letter was sent to each pastor and also a letter to the Mayor of Dixon, expressing his appreciation and thanks to the contributors for their loyal support last year and requesting their continued financial backing.

Ed Vaile, prominent local merchant, takes over the ranks as Vice President of Lee County. Under Mr. Vaile's jurisdiction comes all Scouting in Lee County and he has associated with him the following: O. P. Goeke, Atty. Martin Garrison, Dr. Z. W. Moss, John Davis, A. H. Lancaster, and W. D. Hart of Dixon; Joe Moore of Nelson; Oscar Berga and John Hall of Ambury; F. J. Morrissey of Sublet; Ralph Schaller of Ashton; Raymond Degner of Lee Center; Prof. A. B. Whitcombe of Grand Detour; John Becker of Prairieville; A. A. Tuttle of Ambury; and Ray Gilbert of East Jordan.

Reverend Whitcombe was appointed as County Commissioner and is responsible to Mr. Vaile for the growth in the Field Work of Lee County. There are better than 500 Scouts in the Troops of Lee County organized into 18 troops and this coming year Cubbing for the 9 to 12 year old boys will be organized on a very comprehensive scale. These men responsible for Scouting in this county can do little without the financial support of the citizens of the towns they represent; therefore, the appeal goes out by Mr. Stephan, for each one to do their part in the coming financial drive. He today issued the following statement:

"We as citizens of this community are again called upon for financial assistance for the Boy Scouts. There is of course a feeling in some quarters that at this time this assistance should not be asked for. The amount asked for from each of us is small, and if a matter of this kind is left by the wayside to drift aimlessly for a year, then all the work and money spent in years gone by is lost. We can only

THERMOMETER WAS CAUSE OF CRACKUP HERE

Official Investigation Of Monday's Plane Crash Completed

A small metal thermometer, not more than two inches in diameter and less than an inch in thickness, which was attached to the cowl of the Backhawk Flying club's Mono-coupe plane by a rubber cushion cup, was responsible for the crash late last Monday afternoon which resulted in the death of Edward Scheffler and the serious injury of Pilot George Fruit of Franklin Grove, who was at the controls. This, in substance, is the decision of the federal and state inspectors who have checked very carefully the twisted mass of metal, wood and fabric that was once the plane, in the hangar at the Dixon Municipal Airport field to ascertain the exact cause of the crack-up during the progress of Monday afternoon's air show.

The round metal-cased thermometer was placed on the dash of the plane last spring by one of the owner-members for the purpose of observing changes in temperature on the ground and in flight, and was not a part of the regular equipment of the plane. After the plane left the field with a passenger Monday afternoon gaining an altitude of probably 500 feet, the vacuum in the rubber cup which held the thermometer to the dash became broken and the small metal cylinder dropped from its place to the floor of the cabin and rolled beneath one of the foot controls.

Marks on the outer metal case of the thermometer indicate that the pilot made repeated attempts to force the foot control pedal down, failing because the metal case fouled its operation. It is believed that Pilot Fruit was turning his attention to the removal of the thermometer from beneath the control pedal when his ship lost its flying speed and went into a flat spin, crashed to the ground despite his efforts to return to the airport and effect a landing.

The pilot was helpless with his controls fouled in this manner and experts declare that he displayed exceptional skill in preventing the plane from going into a tail-spin.

Kane and Kendall Farmers Will Meet

St. Charles, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Kane and Kendall county farmers will hold meetings in all townships of the two counties Monday night to discuss the withholding of farm produce from markets. A group of the farmers met here last night and were addressed by E. E. Kennedy of Kanakee, an associate of Milo Reno of Iowa, head of the National Farm Holiday Association.

TROOPS PATROL CANTON STREETS; FEAR DISORDER

Schools Were Guarded Friday Because Of Bombing Rumors

Canton, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Canton—vortex of violence in the Illinois coal miners wage dispute—was on edge today.

National Guardsmen maintained vigilant beats on the streets and at mine centers and citizens were fearful of further disorders that for nearly a week have disrupted Fulton county.

This morning militiamen under Captain Amerigo Benjan planned to examine a supposed bomb found planted at military headquarters at the Knights of Pythias hall yesterday.

Private Leland White discovered the supposed bomb. Its fuse snuffing, as he tramped his post at headquarters. Only six inches of the fuse remained unburned.

Schools Guarded
Private White's discovery came on the heels of rumors to authorities that disgruntled miners intended bombing two grade school buildings. Militiamen were rushed to the schools and the children unaware of the excitement, finished classes calmly while the military searched and watched the buildings.

Captain Benjan said no guard would be maintained at the schools today Saturday being a holiday. He said while he believed the rumors to be from irresponsible sources that guards would be placed at the buildings again if the Sheriff deemed them necessary.

AGREEMENT SIGNED
Edwardsville, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The signing of a wage scale agreement between the Progressive Miners Union and independent coal operators in St. Clair and Madison counties today cleared the way for the immediate return to work of more than 6,000 diggers.

The agreement, signed yesterday, provides for $5 basic wage scale, which is the same rate agreed upon recently by the United Mine Workers and the Illinois Coal Operators and which aroused the objection of a faction of that union that broke away to form the Progressive Union.

William Keck, secretary of the Progressive Union, said in a statement concurred in by C. G. Stiel, president of the St. Clair-Madison Coal Operators Association, that "with several thousand miners in the southern part of the state now working under an agreement which contains a basic rate considerably less than the $12 scale which the Progressive Union of America were striving to obtain, it was apparent that it was impossible to hold out for a scale which would throw the advantage in the industry to southern Illinois."

"It is with extreme regret that the Progressive Miners of America have to reconcile themselves to this deplorable condition."

The statement further said: "There has been prepared and ratified an agreement embodying terms and working conditions which will remove any element of further conflict in the northern and central Illinois fields."

Will Prospect For Gold In Labrador

St. John's, N. F., Oct. 8.—(AP)—A new chapter in the age-old quest for gold was being written today by Capt. D. S. Bondurant, Quincy, Ill., aviator, who has been granted the exclusive privilege to prospect by air in the Labrador hinterland.

Bondurant has been flying in Labrador in the interests of the Quebec government intermittently since 1927. While on one of his trips he located gold reefs which he prospected and sampled last year.

The Newfoundland government, however, in 1929, reserved all mineral licenses and Bondurant endeavored unsuccessfully to gain a concession from former officials.

When the present administration gained control he renewed his efforts, which were crowned with success yesterday. Bondurant had said prospecting from the air would be fairly simple.

BAKER SUICIDES
Kewanee, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—With an improvised tube leading from the exhaust pipe to the interior of the car, the body of Elmer Rees, 68, president of the Phoenix Banking Company of Bradford, Ill., was found Friday slumped in the rear seat of the machine.

Death was believed to have been caused by monoxide gas. The car was parked in a clover field near Bradford.

DECISION DELAYED

Taylorville, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Roy Dove today delayed his decision in the habeas corpus proceedings brought against National Guard officers by Charles Powell, a mine picket arrested two weeks ago when Peabody mine No. 9 reopened. He said he wanted time to study a brief submitted by Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom on the duties of militia during military control of the turbulent mine area.

CARLOAD LOADINGS
Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The American Railway Association today announced the carloadings for the week ending Oct. 1 were 622,075 cars, an increase of 26,329 above the preceding week.

$12,000,000 IS AVAILABLE FOR FARMER'S LOANS

Finance Corporation Branches At Four Cities Ready

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Funds were on tap today at four agricultural credit corporations for loans to farmers and stockmen. The Reconstruction Corporation, which established these regional agricultural agencies, said that $12,000,000 was in the Treasury subject to drafts up to $3,000,000 each by the credit corporations at Sioux City, Salt Lake City, Spokane and Columbus.

This announcement was made yesterday shortly after South Trimble, Clerk of the House, made public the corporation's August loan report to Congress, overruling objections of Alice Pomeroy, chairwoman of the Board. It showed loans aggregating $186,209,310 were authorized during August.

It was learned also that the Reconstruction Corporation, which has encouraged applications for self-liquidating loans, has encountered legal difficulties in the way of some of these advances and had its legal department at work trying to overcome them.

In announcing that money now was available for the four agricultural agencies, Ford Howe, who directs this work for the Finance Corporation, said first loans would be made immediately.

The Reconstruction Corporation's report to Congress showed that $107,500,000 had been made available to the Secretary of Agriculture for crop production loans and that $64,201,989 had been disbursed up to September 1.

WOMEN LARGELY RESPONSIBLE IN COMING ELECTION

President Hoover Says They Will Decide Great Issues

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Upon women voters today was placed by President Hoover "a large measure of the responsibility for determining in November whether proven measures now winning this battle against depression shall be exchanged for unknown experiments."

Also, the President said by radio yesterday, the feminine electorate must help decide at the polls "the course to be pursued by the nation for many years to come in the solution of three great tasks. He designated them as follows:

"The first of these is the battle for recovery from this depression which is now in the stage of winning counter-attack on a long extended front.

"Second, we must correct economic weaknesses and wrongs which have been brought vividly to the surface in the depression. We must set up protection against recurrence of these terrible calamities for the future.

"Third, we must advance political and social organization for the accomplishment of the great purposes of life, which are security and independence of the family and the home, wider opportunity and equal opportunity for the individual x x x."

Was "Hoover Day"
Mr. Hoover spoke from the White House during a "Hoover Day" celebration arranged by the women's division of the Republican National Committee.

Again, as at Des Moines, the President cited measures sponsored by "our opponents" in the House of Representatives last session, mentioning among others the Garner relief bill, the cash bonus bill and the Democratic tariff bill. Then he said:

"These measures would have put a burden of $3,500,000,000 upon the country, they would have created enormous issues of fiat money, x x x. They would have put the government into wholesale personal banking. They would have broken down every safeguard that we have established to prevent pork barrel legislation.

"Had we not been able to destroy these measures they would have destroyed recovery; they would have thrown us from the foundation of 150 years of careful planning."

"Protect Whole People"
Speaking of the task of recovery, Mr. Hoover said government aid had been brought through existing institutions "for the final purpose of protecting the whole people in holding their homes, their farms from loss through debt, to

ADDITIONAL ACCOMMODATIONS ARE NEEDED FOR DELEGATES TO M. E. CONFERENCE HERE COMING WEEK

The committee in charge of the housing of ministers and laymen attending the annual Rock River conference of the Methodist church, reported today having secured accommodations for 250 delegates at Dixon home. This represents fine hospitality upon the part of the families of the community and the committee deeply appreciates the ready response. It is felt that the cheerful response has been done in the knowledge that these good men will be a blessing to every home where they stop.

There are 82 more preachers who have not been heard from by the committee who are expected to

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

WEDNESDAY HOLIDAY
Columbus Day, Wednesday, Oct. 12, will be observed by the banks throughout Lee county. All of the banks will be closed for the entire day. It has been announced. The holiday will also be observed by both of the Dixon banking institutions.

AT MOLLIE CELEBRATION
Postmaster John E. Moyer motored to East Moline yesterday afternoon with Postmaster Harold Ward of Sterling and attended ceremonies attendant the breaking of ground for a new federal building in that city. They also attended the banquet and program held at the Short Hills Country Club last evening.

GODFREY OPTIMISTIC
Mr. and Mrs. Horton Godfrey of Chicago motored to Dixon Friday for a week end visit with Mr. Godfrey's mother, Mrs. Charles Godfrey of Peoria avenue. Mr. Godfrey is general sales manager for the Bunte Bros. Candy Co., and is quite optimistic as to the general business outlook. His firm is employing more men at present than ever before.

VETERANS' PICNIC
The annual Lee County Veterans picnic will be held all day Sunday at the Schoenholz Black Hawk park, near Grand Detour bridge. The committee in charge invites all ex-service men to attend. A fine program starting at 11 o'clock in the morning and continuing throughout the day will consist of two boxing bouts, baseball, races, horseshoe picking and a tug of war. Other entertainment features have also been provided both in and out of doors and a feature of the outing will be a barbecue dinner at noon.

McErlane's Disappearance
McErlane disappeared from here the day his common-law wife was killed last year. Her dogs had frequently been seen on his boat in their happier days.

Entered Hospital Tues.
The gunman entered the hospital Tuesday. He died at 6 A. M. today and his body was taken to the Simpson undertaking parlors. Dr. Dale Haworth attended him. He engaged two private rooms and a sun parlor.

The flashily dressed, hard-eyed men who frequently visited the killer, and hunted ducks with him were absent during his last illness.

Police inferred they had been McErlane's affiliates in former beer-selling activities in Chicago but did not know their names. They always carried large rolls of bills.

McErlane's disappearance from the south side beer trade left that section of the city in turmoil as rival groups fought with guns and vandalism for control.

His beneficiaries will be missed this winter by Beardstown's poor who profited from his many gifts of money or clothing. He once bought 15 overall suits. All the storekeeper had in stock, for small boys in the neighborhood of his cabin boat.

The boat had a kitchen, two bedrooms and a living room. Large rugs covered the decks. Radio, electric refrigerator and big overstuffed chairs were other comforts.

Home Of Bandit's Sweetheart Raided
Gary, Ind., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Raiding the home of Alice Hiller whom they described as the sweetheart of Ned Hills of Gary, who was shot and killed after an attempt to hold up a bank at Dayton, Iowa, Gary police seized a suitcase which they said contained $1,000 and a machine gun. The officers said they believed the money was part of loot taken in a bank robbery at Bradley, Ill., several weeks ago.

Following the raid, conducted yesterday, the police held Miss Hiller for questioning. Apparently she was unaware of the contents of the suitcase.

In another house the police arrested Howard Moore, 20, believed by them, they said, to be another member of Hills' gang. Another member is being sought.

CLAIM SPEED RECORD
Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A claim to the speed record for commercial planes between Moline and Chicago was made today when Pilots C. T. Robertson and Robert Templeton brought their United Air Lines Dallas-Chicago overnight ship here in 46 minutes from Moline, 152 miles west. The plane, carrying eight passengers and 800 pounds of mail and express, averaged 198 miles per hour.

"MA" FERGUSON WINS
Austin, Tex., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The name of Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson was ordered printed on the Nov. 8 general election ballot today as the Democratic nominee for Governor of Texas after the state Supreme Court ruled against Governor R. S. Sterling in his election contest against the woman candidate.

High Point Of Career
The high point of his career came just two years and a half ago.

McErlane lay on his bed in the German Deaconess Hospital—put there, first of all, by a woman. His common law wife had repulsed his advances with a bullet, but that did not keep them from living together again. It only sent him to the hospital for a while.

He lay there, his right leg in a cast, swag high with weights and pulleys.

For a moment his nurse stepped out of the room. In that moment assassins slipped down the corridor to his door, let loose a furious fusillade in the quietness of the hospital, and fired three bullets into the body of the prostrate gangster. Amid the screams of patients he reached for the pistol under his pillow and sent his attackers fleeing with bullets fired wildly into walls and ceiling. Unexpectedly, he lived.

Was Dissolute Gunman
That was in February, 1930. In later months he returned to live with Marion Miller, the common law wife, and became more and more the dissolute, drunken gunman with the reputation of a madman.

One morning—it was just a year ago today—Marion Miller was found dead in his car. Four bullets had ended her life. Bullets fired at crazy angles had punctured cushions, walls, windows and doors of the automobile. Fired from within, the police were convinced. Nearby lay two dogs, dead too of bullet wounds that could not have been inflicted accidentally. Everything pointed to McErlane, the mad killer, the police said; for he had been seen in

PNEUMONIA IS FATAL TO COLD-BLOODED KILLER

Frank McErlane, Cruellest Gangster, Died In Hospital Today

Beardstown, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Frank McErlane, one of Chicago's cruelest and most notorious criminals, died in Schnitz Memorial Hospital today of pneumonia, police said.

The man who introduced the machine gun to Chicago liquor wars and invented the one-way ride died in bed but his end was violent, hospital attaches said. Four internes were needed to hold him as he registered fear of some secret enemy in his last hours.

McErlane lived on a houseboat, tied to a down town dock in the Illinois river, for the past 18 months. His only constant companion was an older woman known as Florina McErlane, believed to have been his mother. She was with him when he died.

His wife was found shot to death in the gunman's automobile on a south side street in Chicago last year. Her two dogs had been killed too. Police said the slaying was characteristic of the man they called "Chicago's cruelest killer." McErlane disappeared after the slaying but later surrendered from a Wisconsin hideaway and was cleared for lack of evidence.

McErlane disappeared from here the day his common-law wife was killed last year. Her dogs had frequently been seen on his boat in their happier days.

Entered Hospital Tues.
The gunman entered the hospital Tuesday. He died at 6 A. M. today and his body was taken to the Simpson undertaking parlors. Dr. Dale Haworth attended him. He engaged two private rooms and a sun parlor.

WAS "UNNATURAL" DEATH
Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—There was no music of machine guns as Frank McErlane went out. It was an unnatural death—pneumonia—unnatural for the fellow who earned his reputation as one of Chicago's toughest killers.

He had plenty of chances to go some other way.

He had one great chance to die with his boots off—as he died today in his houseboat at Beardstown. But that other time he had his pistol under the pillow.

McErlane was a great hulk of a fellow, an easy mark for a bullet, but no easy foe in a fight. He came into notoriety as the partner of "Polack" Joe Salts at the outbreak of the liquor wars, but he was no kid then—old enough to be the father of Al Capone and new of the "youngsters" who grew up as alcohol gangsters. He came into his notoriety as a criminal this year—his first police record was back in 1911.

High Point Of Career
The high point of his career came just two years and a half ago.

McErlane lay on his bed in the German Deaconess Hospital—put there, first of all, by a woman. His common law wife had repulsed his advances with a bullet, but that did not keep them from living together again. It only sent him to the hospital for a while.

JEWEL THIEVES FOILED: SEVEN HURT IN BATTLE

Cleveland, O. Jewelers Resist Holdup: Fight On Street

Cleveland, O., Oct. 8.—(AP)—A gunman identified as Norman A. Townsend, 34, of Detroit, was killed today, three persons were shot and three more injured in a frustrated holdup of a diamond merchant which culminated in a wild downtown battle.

Townsend was shot as the climax of a 70-mile an hour race down Euclid ave. with police roaring at the automobile he had commandeered. He died an hour later.

BULLETIN
Cleveland, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Four persons were shot and three more injured, two of them women, in a wild downtown battle between police and two gunmen who had attempted to hold up a diamond merchant.

These shot were: Herbert Quinlan, jeweler, reported near death from a bullet wound in the abdomen; Patrolman Fred Blaier, shot in the right side, condition critical. Unidentified bandit.

Detective Roy Heisley, wounded in the neck.

The injured: Mrs. Florence Martin, 35. Beverly Martin, 14, her daughter reported dying.

Edmond S. Quinlan, father of Herbert Quinlan.

Commander's Car
Mrs. Martin and her daughter were injured in the crash of their car which had been commandeered by one of the bandits in a desperate attempt to escape a pursuing police squad car. The daughter was either thrown or fell from the Martin car as it careened into the curb after the bandit had been wounded.

The younger Quinlan was shot by one of the two robbers when the father shouted "you dirty dogs" and offered resistance. The elder Quinlan was struck over the head with the butt of a gun as the robbers fled from the building.

A gun fight with police ensued when one of the robbers, fleeing from the scene, commandeered an automobile in which Mrs. Martin and her daughter were seated.

Patrolman Blaier was shot as he attempted to stop the bandit from seizing the car. The other robber was captured by parking lot attendants. Police said he was Francis E. Bush, 33, bank robber and ex-convict.

Receivership For Railroad Is Denied

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Company, known as the Nickel Plate, was free today to go ahead with refinancing plans approved by more than 75 per cent of the bond holders of the road.

Judge James H. Wilkerson in the United States District Court, late yesterday refused to throw the road into receivership, as had been asked by Samuel Caplan of Detroit, holder of a $3,000 bond.

The refunding plan provides that the 2,285 bond holders will receive 25 per cent of the value of their bonds as soon as negotiations are completed and the additional 75 per cent in three years together with six per cent interest.

Money to work out the refinancing plan is to be obtained from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, attorneys intimated in court.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
United Press Financial Editor
New York, Oct. 8—(AP)—The stock market finished a session of confused price movement today with a wide assortment of small losses.

A favorable weekly report of the movement of revenue freight checked an early decline, but a break in cotton, on publication of the government's monthly crop report, brought freer selling in shares which depressed many of the more active issues 1 to more than 2 points for a time.

There were numerous recoveries of a point or so in the late dealings, however, and at the finish most losses ranged from fractions to a point. Trading was moderately active for a Saturday session, the turnover amounting to some 1,400,000 shares. The closing tone was slightly heavy.

Union Pacific rallied to show a fractional gain, then slid back to close more than a point lower. Southern Pacific registered an exceptional loss of 2 points. U. S. Steel and American Can recorded their extreme losses to fractions, but a number of miscellaneous issues closed about a point lower, including American Telephone, International Harvester, Case, Consolidated Gas, Sears, Woolworth and others. Utilities, as a group, were under considerable pressure for a time. Closing quotations:

HYDE DEFENDED
TARIFF ON FARM
PRODUCTS TODAYRefuted Claims Of Democratic Nominee At Shenandoah

Shenandoah, Ia., Oct. 8—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde told an agricultural audience here today the tariff principles of the Democratic party would cripple the farmer's finances if put into effect.

Hyde said the United States' home market is 15 times greater than was the foreign market even before passage of the 1890 tariff bill. Therefore, he said, it is more important to protect the home market than to attempt expansion of foreign trade.

"There are two million head of cattle at this minute south of the Rio Grande in the border states of Old Mexico, as President Hoover has pointed out," Hyde said.

"The price of feeder cattle on the south bank of the river is $2 per hundred; the price on the north bank is $4. It is the protection of the tariff, not the Rio Grande, which keeps that crushing weight from Mexico from being placed on the United States market."

Declaring the present tariff laws provide greater benefits to farmer than to any other class, Hyde said more than 75 per cent of the protests received by the Tariff Commission from foreign countries have been against the import duties on agricultural commodities.

NEW YORK CITY
REPUBLICANS TO PICK CANDIDATE

New York, Oct. 8—(AP)—As Republican chieftains conferred today to pick a mayoral candidate to fight it out with Surrogate John P. O'Brien, organization Democrat who has the united backing of Tammany and allies, the report was heard that the G. O. P. nominee might be an independent Democrat.

The times understands George McAneny, borough President of Manhattan when the late William J. Gaynor was mayor, was being discussed as a possibility.

Chairman W. Kingsland Macy of the Republican State Committee conferred with county chairman. They tried to reach agreement on some available candidate before the convention tonight at which the nomination is to be made.

The principal difficulty, the Herald-Tribune said, was to find a man willing to make the race. Up to yesterday afternoon Macy and his associates counting on running Mayor Joseph V. McKee, Bronx Democrat who succeeded the resigned James J. Walker, but he formally denied any intention to run.

George U. Harvey, Republican borough President of Queens, indicated that he would not run. The Herald-Tribune quotes him as saying: "I have been a member of one lost battalion and I don't want to be a member of another." He explained that he was referring to his war experiences.

ANNUAL DRIVE
IS ANNOUNCED

feel at this time that whatever we do, is for the protection of our efforts of the past, and to assure the boys, who are the men of tomorrow, that they will have the moral and financial support due them in a great movement for the teaching of patriotism, and the injection into the minds of our boys, that they have a duty to perform, and to make them useful and intelligent citizens. Ideas of a communistic type have run rife in our land for the last number of years, and these boys, through the financial and moral help of the men interested, can be educated that good citizenship and patriotism should be the real aim of every American boy.

"Our community lacks the facilities of a Y. M. C. A. where boys generally meet in groups to plan things of interest to them. We then make a step to provide an organization, where these boys can meet under the guidance of men of unquestionable moral standing, at least twice a month, to organize their own ways and means for, past times and enjoyment, which will consume some of the pent up vigor of young men of the ages of from 9 to 16. The adherence of any boy to the teachings of the Boy Scouts, cannot help but make of each one of our better citizens, and after all regardless of the cost, this is one of the most important items, and the future of America is guaranteed if our young men own their duty to feel that they owe their everything to our government, and to thank God they have had the opportunity to live in America."

"I hope that the drive is most successful, and I know it will be, as the citizens of this Community are I believe, more than thankful for all Boy Scout efforts of the past."

Hoover's Endorsement
President Herbert Hoover endorses the drive enthusiastically in the following letter to Walter C. Head, President of the Boy Scouts of America:

"My Dear Mr. Head: It was most heartening to me to receive recently from your Chief Scout Executive the report of the activities of the Boy Scouts of America for the year, 1931 and for the first part of this year, showing that you have not only maintained your strength, but actually increased."

"It is most important at this time that the activities of the Boy Scouts of America and indeed the activities of all of our character-building agencies, should be maintained. I hope that your local Council units will, as heretofore, receive from the general public, such generous support that the splendid record you made for 1931 may be equaled in 1932."

"It is gratifying to learn that the challenge which I gave to your organization on the occasion of the Washington Meeting has resulted in the development and adoption by your National Council of a comprehensive program of growth covering the next ten years. This will not only bring to thousands of additional boys the joys and satisfactions of the Game of Scouting, but make the character-building and citizenship results a vital factor in advancing our democracy."

"I sincerely hope that every Scout and Scouter in your organization will heartily cooperate in making your plans effective."

"Yours faithfully,"
"HERBERT HOOVER"

"TO FRIENDS OF THE BOY SCOUTS."
"Dear Friend: One year ago, you showed an active interest in the youth of your community and in the Boy Scout program, by contributing cash for its support. We need your assistance this year, more than ever, and know we can count on your renewed and liberal interest."

"Having been recently elected President of the Blackhawk Area Council, I can assure you that the 1932 funds were wisely administered. The previous officers of the Council made the enviable record of keeping within their budget and showing a small cash balance on hand. The number of Scouts was increased, and the cost per Scout substantially reduced. Our aim for next year is to repeat this fine record,—to increase the membership, to reduce costs, and to keep within the necessary minimum budget."

"In order to accomplish these things, it is vital for previous contributors to again do their part, and for new ones to join them. I am therefore asking you, on behalf of the boys in your town who are counting on the privileges of Scouting, to be ready to help, when requested by your fellow citizens, who are giving his time to collect."

"No character-building agency does more for Boyhood than Scouting,—and in these disturbing times you will agree, the spread of this movement is essential. Scouts of 12 to 16 years will soon be citizen voters of 21. It is important to all ways the finest principles of good citizenship. Your investment now will pay dividends."

"With personal thanks for your cooperation, I remain,
"Sincerely yours,
"JOHN C. RALSTON"
"President of Blackhawk Area Council."

WOMEN LARGELY RESPONSIBLE IN COMING ELECTION

protect their savings deposited in banks, their insurance policies, to promote their employment."

"We have won that safety for them and for you," he said.

For corrective economic weaknesses, the President advocated a "constructive revision" of the regulation of railways, public utilities, insurance companies, savings banks and other financial institutions.

"Another of our great problems is the safeguards which we should erect against the recurrence of such calamities," Mr. Hoover said.

Share in Responsibility
"Today I would ask the women of America to study carefully the issues before the nation," the President said. "Upon your actions rests a large measure of the responsibility for the future of our country. Upon those of you who are taking an active part in the work of the Republican party in this campaign falls a major share of responsibility that the issues be clearly understood. I ask every woman everywhere who believes in our cause to join actively in it from today to the election. We shall demand good government in vain if we neglect our duties in the precinct and in the polls."

In appealing for the women's votes the President outlined his position on several of the major issues of the campaign, openly attacked the Democratic leadership, sounded an appeal for action which would make future depressions impossible, and traced in detail the reconstruction program now in operation. The President said the nation is emerging from the depression, adding that the depression would have been worth all it cost if it "brought about a realignment of public thought about the realities of living."

Great Tasks Confront U. S.
The President said that today three great tasks confronted the nation. He listed the first of these as the battle for recovery from the depression "which is now in the stage of winning counter attack on a large extended front."

The second task called for the correction of "economic weaknesses and the wrongs brought vividly to the surface in the depression."

"As a third task," said Mr. Hoover, "we must advance political and social organization for the accomplishment of the real purposes of life, which are security and independence of the family and the home, wider opportunity and equal opportunity for the individual, and the upbuilding of moral leadership."

Indirectly the President was believed to have fired a shot at the Insults in Chicago during his discussion of the regulation and control of public utilities and financial institutions. In this connection the President after coming out for "constructive revision" of the regulations governing financial institutions and public utilities, said that the nation must not lose faith in democracy because some men proved unfaithful to their trusts.

About Federal Regulations
"You are well aware," said the President, "that Federal and state governments have regulated the insurance companies, savings banks, and other financial institutions. They have also regulated the railroads, the electrical, gas, and other public utilities. As a result of weaknesses which have developed we must have constructed revision of the regulation in a form that will not destroy but will give greater service and greater security to the whole people."

"The spirit in which we must develop these reforms is the preservation of initiative of our people, that we should not punish and prevent strong doing, not that we should destroy them by our government robbing great bureaucracies upon the country which only deaden and do not heal. We must not lose faith in the ability of democracy to be master of its own house without burning it down because some men have proved unfaithful to their trusts."

Discussing international steps for world peace, the President said that he has taken the position that this government will not participate in trying to compel people to engage in settlement of controversies by the use of force. He asserted, however, that the Kellogg anti-war pact had been advanced during his administration to greater potency than was ever contemplated at the time of its inauguration. He referred to steps taken in the interest of mobilization and concentrating world opinion against those who violate the pact.

Japan was not mentioned by name by the President but he recalled that the United States had advanced the "further doctrine" that the world should not recognize the benefits obtained by its violations. This latter was interpreted as directed at Japan's activities in Manchuria.

The President spent the day engaged in political conversations with party workers and in conducting the routine work of the government. Pressure continued to be exerted to influence Mr. Hoover to make at least four more speeches during the campaign.

HURLEY SPEAKS TO REPUBLICANS
OF BADGER STATESays F. Roosevelt Varies
His Stand As He
Changes Sites

Ripon, Wis., Oct. 8—(AP)—From the porch of a little school house known as the birthplace of the Republican party, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley in a political address today called for support for President Hoover as the "strong man" of Republicanism.

"The one great hope of getting us out of the morass,"

"To Wisconsin and the north-west, Hurley told of what he described as the administration's waterways projects and criticized Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt the Democratic nominee for President, as being "for and against" waterway proposals.

Hurley's trip to Wisconsin was regarded by local politicians as significant. The state, long under dominance of the anti-administration LaFollette Progressive Republicans, at a recent primary re-elected LaFollette leaderhip. In the primary, however, leaders said issues were mainly local and there was little opportunity for the voter to register his position on the national administration.

Outlet To The Sea
"Wisconsin has long dreamed of an outlet to the sea through the St. Lawrence river," Hurley said. "A treaty has been made by the Hoover administration under which that can be accomplished. Every Wisconsin lake port will become an ocean port. The seaway has long been the dream of Herbert Hoover."

The Democratic platform ignored the seaway entirely. And what of Governor Roosevelt? As usual he has been both in favor of it and against it. Governor Roosevelt faces the east and says that the Democratic platform does not endorse the seaway and then faces the west and says that the platform does endorse the seaway."

Hurley outlined the Illinois waterway to connect the Great Lakes and the Gulf; the nine-foot Mississippi river channel and the six-foot Missouri river channel as waterways projects sponsored by the administration to bring the northwest closer to the nation's markets.

He accused the Democratic nominee of merely offering a panacea of words and of taking conflicting positions on issues in his quest for votes.

TOMORROW WILL NEVER COME

(By Mrs. Ada Nichols, New York)
ORD, what shall I do today
To honor my Lord and King?
My child, go forth with the message
And praise to Jehovah sing.

But, Lord, I toiled all yesterday
For hearing ear I sought
My child, if you slack your hand today
All yesterday counts you naught.

But, Lord, I will go tomorrow;
My feet shall your errands run
Go child, today, if you hear my voice;
For tomorrow will never come.

Fall Conferences For League Women Voters in October

What can the League of Women Voters do to help the state-wide problems of the day? This was the theme of the meeting of the League's Department of Public Welfare, of which Mrs. Alfred D. Kohn of Chicago is chairman, and which held its fall conference on Wednesday, Oct. 5 at the McCormick Memorial Y. W. C. A. from 10:30 to 3 o'clock.

Representatives from various parts of the state were invited to attend, so that suggestions could be discussed and a program of work formulated, to be voted upon at the state convention. State program chairman participating were: Mrs. Louis Brownlow, Child Welfare Department; Mrs. Laura Hughes Lund, Education Department; Mrs. Maurice A. Pollak, Living Costs Department; Miss Mollie Ray Carroll, Women in Industry Department; and Dr. Rachelle S. Yarros, Social Hygiene Department.

On Monday, Oct. 10, a somewhat similar meeting will be held by the Departments of Efficiency in Government, Mrs. Guy E. Tawney of Urbana, chairman; Legal Status, Mrs. Raymond Simons of Highland Park, chairman; and International Cooperation, Mrs. E. C. Schmidt, chairman. Among the topics to be discussed at those meetings are: Consolidation of Government, Public and Private Rights of Illinois Women, and Economic Aspects of International Relations.

House Warming for the H. W. Leydigs Last Evening

The attractive new home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Leydig, 1611 W. 3rd street, was the scene of a happily planned surprise gathering of friends and neighbors, on Friday evening, October 7.

The host and hostess soon recovered from their temporary confusion, and extended their usual warm hospitality to their guests.

Games and contests of various sorts were provided for entertainment, causing much merriment and friendly rivalry.

Musical numbers were given by Charles Smith, Miss Ruth Leydig and William Slothower, warm applause testifying to the merits of each performance.

Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour.

Best wishes for many happy years in the new home were expressed all having felt the evening spent together one to be remembered with pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hoostiller of Sterling were out of town guests.

Bridge Club Met At Mathews Home

The YO YO Bridge Club held their first fall party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mathews, 1212 Peoria Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Erwin won the favor for high score, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kness, the low score favor.

A delicious three course luncheon was then served. The home was prettily decorated with autumn flowers.

Annual Picnic Supper at Earl Newcomb Home

On Thursday evening the Missionary Society of the Christian church met at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Newcomb, for the annual picnic supper for members and friends. Forty were in attendance.

At eight o'clock the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. A. Barnett, and the World Friendship hymn was sung by the gathering.

Then a prayer was given by Mrs. Kindig.

The president told of the apportionment for the coming year. It was moved and seconded to accept the recommendation for $200. It was voted upon and carried.

The minutes were read and the roll was called and the offering was then taken and the treasurer's report given, and a letter from headquarters was read which was encouraging.

Mrs. Bennett led the worship period with the subject being "We Would See Jesus."

Mrs. Palmer had charge of the presentation period. Mrs. Derr told of the Yakima tribe of Indians and the White Swan reservation. One Indian woman declared, "My people have always believed in God, but the white man brought Jesus and the Bible when he came over in the Mayflower." Then stories of visits to three Indian homes were given by Mrs. Frase, Mrs. Peckham and Mrs. Kindig, who were most interesting.

Then bits of information were given by six visiting men.

Mrs. Barnett gave a short account of the convention at Bloomington.

Mrs. Kindig led the fellowship period by imaginary trips to different benevolent institutions. The benediction closed the meeting.

Fashion Plaque

OF COURSE nothing is sweeter than a cape this year. This one is fashioned of dark Japanese mink skins. The high straight collar fastens with two buttons of fur.

They are assisted by Miss Dorothy Prescott and the local director, Mrs. C. A. Hoppers.

The churches and schools of Dixon aid this organization by their willingness to provide meeting places for troops and special training courses. The Illinois Northern Utility Company has given assistance in the matters of printing and lighting. Folding chairs have been donated by Joseph Staples and Mrs. Cecelia Jones.

During the summer many of the Girl Scouts were able to take advantage of the privilege to camp at Hickory Hills near Edgerton, Wis.

This Girl Scout Camp is managed by the Des Plaines, Ill. Council and is rated one of the best in this section of the country.

The local director and one captain, Miss Dorothy Prescott, attended a National Training school held in Indianapolis, Ind. The information on Scouting technique given in the courses there was given to fit the needs of Dixon and was presented in a Leaders' Training Course. This course was given during the month of September and was open to all new leaders and troop committee members. Organization and methods of presentation were covered.

During the remainder of the year the Leaders Association will hold monthly meetings on the first Monday of each month. The object of these meetings is to insure greater proficiency in the technique of Scouting. Any member of a troop committee or of the Community Committee are welcome to join.

"Womanless Wedding" Monday Eve at Presbyterian Church

On the 10th of October in '32, The bride's fair parents announce to you

That their daughter Wilmina, so comely and fair,
Will wed a young banker, with light brownish hair.

The beautiful bride as all will agree
Is a sight, yes indeed, for sore eyes, to see.
While the dashing young banker, E. B. Lennon, by name;
H. Roe and B. Raymond, their son him do claim.

C. Ross, tall and stately, was asked best man
By Johnston, the father, and Ma D. Chapman;
While Skyplot Coppins with book in his hand,
Will tie the knot tight, using ritual grand.

Lazier, Price and Fahrney the music will play,
As the fair bridal two, so sedate go their way.
And Harold Bartholomew carries the ring,
When "Oh, Promise Me" Miss D. Wood will sing.

There strewing the flowers along the bright way,
Will be four little girls, so happy and gay.
Young Danny and Edward and Roger and Bill,
Come see for yourselves the places they fill.

There are ushers an bridesmaids and others galore,
So come one and all and pay at the door.
The price of admission I hate to repeat,
Is only the sum of two-bits for a seat.

Here the muse ran out of poetry but we cordially invite you to come see the bridesmaids, Don Raymond, Oliver Rogers and Mark Keller, Jr., with ushers W. Rhodes, Dr. Dwyer and L. G. Adams. The notables, Anne and Linda are expected, while the country cousins wrote that they might be there. The rest of the wedding party, Eichenberger, Bryant, Haefliger and Rowland will arrive in time.

Resume of Girl Scouting in Dixon Of Much Interest

Nearly two hundred and fifty girls between the ages of 7 and 18 are being reached by Dixon Girl Scouting. Seventeen mothers of these girls are acting on troop committees. Twenty adult leaders are organizing and training troops and fourteen prominent Dixon women form the Community Committee, or governing body.

Dixon is fortunate that in spite of present difficulties the women of Dixon have continued to work unceasingly for the future welfare of our city. Regardless of conditions if we hope for brighter days to come, the training of our future wives and mothers must not halt. The purpose of Girl Scouts is to give thorough natural wholesome pleasures, those habits of mind and body which will enable girls to become responsible, useful women.

It is a credit of Dixon that Scouting is growing because the community's mothers and fathers are increasingly aware of its great value. The Community Committee also, deserves praise for the fine manner in which they distributed the funds raised by a drive in 1929. Girl Scouting has asked for no financial aid since 1929 and has doubled in scope.

The Community Committee consists of the following Dixon women who give unstintingly of their time and energies:

Mrs. Theodore J. Miller, Jr., Mrs. David Marks, Mrs. W. A. Rhodes, Mrs. H. C. Bartholomew, Mrs. W. D. Hart, Mrs. E. H. Prince, Mrs. H. U. Bardwell, Mrs. Harry Edwards, Mrs. John Davies, Miss Esther Barton, Mrs. Warren Murray, Mrs. William J. Sullivan, Mrs. F. W. Hoyie, Mrs. John G. Ralston.

The troop committees which regulate the affairs of individual troops are supported by the following mothers:

Mrs. Grover Hoberg, Mrs. G. Wimpelberg, Mrs. Joseph Crawford, Mrs. R. E. Worsley, Mrs. A. E. Marth, Mrs. Maddox, Mrs. P. O. Heckman, Mrs. Guy Merriman, Mrs. John Haines, Mrs. George Shaw, Mrs. C. C. Hintz, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Stewart Netz, Mrs. Walter Mueller, Mrs. O. P. Goeke, Mrs. Winston Edwards and Mrs. I. E. McLaren.

The troops are organized, and trained by the volunteer work of Dixon young women who desire to aid the community and to assist its future citizens. These captains and lieutenants are:

Mrs. W. D. Hart, Miss Eleanor Clayton, Mrs. Lyle Prescott, Miss Josephine McLaren, Miss Louise Brewster, Miss Marion Schmidt, Miss Helen Parker, Miss Alice Crandall, Miss Lola Glessner, Mrs. F. H. Thomas, Miss Margaret Ballow, Miss Dorothy Dodd, Miss Ann Hofmann, Mrs. John Davies, Mrs. Robert Warner, Mrs. I. B. Hoefler, Miss Maxine Rosenthal, Miss Lucy Bovey.

They are assisted by Miss Dorothy Prescott and the local director, Mrs. C. A. Hoppers.

The churches and schools of Dixon aid this organization by their willingness to provide meeting places for troops and special training courses. The Illinois Northern Utility Company has given assistance in the matters of printing and lighting. Folding chairs have been donated by Joseph Staples and Mrs. Cecelia Jones.

The October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Theodore J. Miller, Jr. The purpose was to make plans for Girl Scout Week and to organize the leaders. Miss Josephine McLaren was chosen chairman and Miss Eleanor Clayton, secretary. Mrs. Miller served refreshments in her usual charming manner. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cornelius A. Hoppers, 656 N. Galena Ave.

The schedule of meetings are as follows:

Troop 4—(North Side 5 and 6th grade) Monday at 3:45.
Troop 5—(North side 7 and 8th grades) Tuesday at 3:45.
North side Brownie Pack—Wednesday at 3:30.
High school troop—Friday at 3:30.
Troop 1 (E. C. Smith school)—Wednesday at 4:00.
Troop 6 (South Central School)—Wednesday at 4:00.
South side Brownie Pack—Tuesday at 4:00.
The first troop meetings were held during the last week of September.

Learn to Relax—Then You Will Sleep

If you want to sleep the sleep of the just—which is just an old way of saying that people fall asleep more easily when their consciences are clear—make yourself relaxed physically. For there will be nights when your conscience is as clean as a small boy's unopened handkerchief, and the house is as still as any house ever was, but your eyes stare into the darkness.

And beauty goes out of the window when sleeplessness lingers too long. If you can't go roaming down the road, though, there are a few simple rules that will help you to grow sleepy.

After all the cows have jumped over the moon, and all of the sheep have jumped over the fence, and you still can't sleep, usually you will be at a loss as to what to do next. Don't try any. Instead, take a warm bath. Relax. Just the fact that you are exercising and moving will make you realize that you are really tired. The warm water is soothing to your nerves. If you are afraid that you will disturb some other members of your family, and the warm bath isn't possible, run some warm water on your wrists. Take a drink of warm water. Or if you prefer, heat some milk.

Now stretch out in your bed. Make sure that the pillow cases and the sheets aren't rumpled. Have the windows wide open and let in the wind and the stars.

Let your body go. Pretend that it is a mountain brook. Don't stop it. Let it glide. Stretch out on your back. Don't twist your body into a ball. Circulation is hampered when you do. Naturally you can't sleep.

It should be of the type that conform to the body. The body should sink into the mattress rather than rest on top of it.

Don't place an extra blanket at the foot of the bed, thinking that you may need it before dawn. The added layers of thickness, which rest on the feet, hinder circulation.

Use of a pillow isn't beneficial, either. Discard it, if you can. Your body will make a straight line, then the blood will circulate freely, and you will be asleep before the first sheep starts over the stile.

HOOVER TURNS THE TIDE

(Davenport Times)

It was a fighting Hoover who addressed himself to the people of Iowa and the nation in his speech at Des Moines last evening. The president's trip across the prairies of Iowa from Davenport to the capital was a triumphal tour. It was a fitting prelude to the reception tendered him at Des Moines wherein a hundred thousand or more joined in the welcome which preceded his public address.

There could be no mistaking the enthusiasm of the Iowa crowds. It heralded to the nation that a native son was not without honor in the land of his nativity.

His speech could not but ring true in every rural homestead in Iowa for here was a national leader who had been reared on a farm not unlike that of their early years and through he occupied the White House, it was from the perspective that had been his when he had known hard times on an Iowa farm in his boyhood that he views the distress of agriculture today.

Under President Hoover's guidance the American dollar continues "to ring true on every counter" as he asserted last evening and the words of the executive rang no less true as he discussed those issues so vital to the nation. Sincerity and clarity were the distinguishing features of his great speech. It marked the turning point in the campaign no less than did the reversal of the flow of gold from the U. S. to a movement back to this country signalize the victory of the dollar and the defeat of the depression.

"A great national victory" has been achieved in a battle "on a thousand fronts," his audience, seen and unseen, was assured. With the danger passed, the president could take the country into his confidence and his exposition of the situation which threatened chaos for the nation could not but instill in the hearts and minds of all who listened to that story of narrowly averted disaster a deep sense of gratitude for the leadership of Herbert Hoover in that dark hour.

The gold standard survived because, in the words of the president, "In the midst of this hurricane the Republican administration kept a cool head and rejected every counsel of weakness and cowardice."

Significantly the tide of victory in the fight to maintain the dollar turned in July, shortly after congress had adjourned and the threat of inflationary legislation had passed.

The country was warned last evening of the baneful effects not only of such legislation as the Democratic majority of the congress sought to impose at a time when our financial and economic structure hung in the balance, but of its imminence should that party be established in power at Washington.

The pork barrel measures which won Democratic approval in the last congress, the proposal to pay the bonus through fiat money, when the fight for the honesty of the American dollar had reached its most critical stage, were exposed in all their viciousness by the president. The arraignment of that leadership which was recognized by the Democratic party in the selection of Speaker Garner as Roosevelt's running mate, could not but impress the millions who gave ear to the president's recital of those events which were of such portent to every citizen of the nation.

The president gave eloquent answer to those who have complained that "things could not be worse." We escaped a far greater catastrophe because the honest, courageous and envisioned man in the White House stood out steadfastly against any one of a number of illy conceived projects, offered by the Democrats, and which would have produced panics and plunged the nation deeper into the morass of despair and destruction.

President Hoover brought about balancing of the budget when it was feared that the imposition of such new taxes as were required by the lessened revenues from other sources would seal his fate politically. He observed it to be imperatively necessary that the financial integrity of the federal government be maintained and in jeopardizing his political fortunes gave impressive testimony that his first concern was that of the nation's security and stability. It was this victory that restored confidence abroad in America and reversed the flow of gold. The war on the depression was won when the American dollar stood as the Gibraltar of world stability and to Herbert Hoover must go full credit.

The picture which the president unfolded of a world, burdened by the drain of war, sinking into chaos, of the incapability of America from its reactions, gave emphasis to the futility of expecting that the man in the White House might have buttressed the country completely against the destructive forces at play.

The need was to save the gold standard and that achieved to liberalize credit in a manner to facilitate a restoration of trade and industry, to lift farm prices and to ease the burden of debtors.

The nation is familiar with this record of accomplishment on the part of President Hoover. Through the Reconstruction Finance Corp. and other federal agencies the economic and financial structures are being restored.

No part of the president's speech bespoke a deeper sympathy than his treatment of the plight of agriculture.

On the little farm near West Branch when he was a boy the word "mortgage" had come to be a dreaded and haunting thing. Cognizant of the distress of the debt-burdened farmers of today he pledged himself to a refinancing of farm mortgages to check foreclosures. He approved the use of annual payments on foreign debts to expand the foreign market of Iowa products.

The grasp which he displayed of the farm problem was in striking contrast to the generalities in which Governor Roosevelt engaged in promulgating his "plan" to aid agriculture. He pointedly declared himself in favor of repeal of the stabilizing provision of the farm act and pledged that he would fight to maintain and even widen the protective tariff on farm products. Recognizing evils in the joint stock land bank system, he promised their correction and reorganization of federal land banks that they may more fully ease the credit situation of their patrons.

Here are definite constructive steps which promise amelioration of the conditions on the farm.

The west, which the president sought to win by his invasion of yesterday, must be impressed by the determination of Mr. Hoover to rescue this section from its plight. Confidence may be left that he will grow impressively in strength in the remaining weeks, for he stands four square on every vital concern of not only the farmer but of the nation.

The tinymite cried, "Watch everyone, and you are bound to see some fun. The magic oil that Duncy's spreading soon will take effect."

"It's bound to make my tin man walk and maybe he will also talk. In fact he might do lots of things that you lads don't expect."

"Well, gee," said Duncy, "I'm tired out. I've spread this strange oil all about. Perhaps somebody else had better try it for a while."

"Of course I've used up lots and lots, but possibly I've missed some spots." "Here, let me try my luck at it," cried Scooty, with a smile.

He poured a bit in every groove. The tin man then began to move. "Hey, look at him," cried Copy. "His whole body seems to sway."

"He's bending over! Now he's straight. I'm so excited I can't wait to see what's going to happen. Right around him let's all stay."

And then the tin man bent real low. "Look out," cried Windy, "or he'll go right over on the ground and spoil his funny oilcan face."

"I guess his joints are rather stiff. It ought to make them loosen if I help him. Then he pushed the tin man right back into place."

A squeaky voice said, "thank you, lad. My what an awful time I've had just making all my new joints work. Somebody help me walk."

"Hurray," cried Duncy. "He's all right. I'm glad I worked with all my might to bring the old tin man to life. Just listen. He can talk!"

"You bet I can," the tin man cried. And then he walked to Duncy's side and said, "So you're the lad who poured the magic oil on me."

"To show my thanks to you I'll try." And then he lifted Duncy high and kissed him on the cheek. It was a funny sight to see. (Copyright 1932, NEA Service, Inc.) (Copyright 1932, NEA Service, Inc.) over the stream in the next story.)

The following memorial to the memory of the late Harlan B. Kauffman has been published by the local American Legion Post.

In the passing of Harlan B. Kauffman, a charter member of this post and a constant worker in behalf of World War veterans, we deeply realize that Shirley Tilton Post and the American Legion in this state has lost a true friend and supporter.

We recommend his record of service and his active support of the Post, and his work in behalf of World War veterans while a member of the General Assembly of Illinois, during which time and through his efforts, November 11 of each year was declared a legal holiday in Illinois as Armistice Day.

We feel a responsibility in the work he has left to us and are deeply grateful for his kindness in remembering this Post both as a beneficiary and as administrator of his estate.

His service to our cause, his loyalty to his country, his desire to be of service to us at all times are all worthy of our commendation.

We desire that a copy of the memorial be spread upon the records of Shirley Tilton Post, American Legion and that it be published in our local newspapers, Shirley Tilton Post, American Post No. 97, Oregon, Ill.

PRIESTS SHORN OF CITIZENSHIP IN VERA CRUZ

All Church Property In Mexican State Confiscated

Mexico City, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Catholic priests in the state of Vera Cruz were deprived of their citizenship today by decree of the state legislature, and all church property was ordered confiscated by the governor for other purposes.

The action was taken at a special session of the legislature last night. The decree declaring the priests no longer citizens leaves them liable to expulsion from the country, under provisions of the federal constitution.

At the same time the legislature indicated its desire to encourage similar action in the other states, by voting to call the attention of its action to the other legislatures and to the federal congress.

The procedure was an aftermath of the expulsion from Mexico this week of Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, Papal Delegate.

Members of the Mexican Methodist church called on President Rodriguez yesterday assuring him it was their desire to comply with the provisions of the country's religious laws. The Mexican branch of the Methodist church was made autonomous more than a year ago by the mother churches in the United States.

LEONARD WAS STOPPED COLD BY McLARNIN

Adage Of Ring Is Proven
True: Veteran Was Stopped In 6th.

By EDWARD NEIL.
Associated Press Sport Writer.
New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A ring philosopher sat upon the bare rubbing table that was his throne, a ragged dressing gown his royal robes.

"It is nice," said Benny Leonard once one of the greatest of lightweights, "to lose occasionally. All your pals come in to see you. They don't bother when you win."

So it was that the new Leonard, a shadow of the old, shrugged away the first defeat of his comeback campaign, a tumultuous surround technical knockout at the hands of fiery young Jimmy McLarnin, in Madison Square Garden last night.

"I wasn't badly hurt, at all," he said smilingly as friends crowded around him. "I am going to keep right on. I was tired. I could not get started. I can lick a lot of fellows, maybe even McLarnin, before I am through."

But out in the arena the crowd of 18,000, packing the Garden to the caves, already were cheering the earnest youths, battling the night out in a semi-final. They were young, eager. They shook off punches, dealt terrific blows. And by comparison, Leonard looked old indeed.

But that crowd of 18,000 had come to see Leonard, hoping that the miracle could happen, that a veteran of 36, whipped back into condition by a score of bouts after seven years out of the ring, could defy the oldest law of the ring.

They saw him muster much of his old skill and just once, enough of his old punching power to drive the dynamite-laden McLarnin to his knees for the flash of a second in the first round, then fade, as he had to eventually, into the helplessness of the sixth. To most of them, at least, the comeback trail had ended.

NEW KICK-OFF RULE APPLIES TO FREE KICKS

Secretary National Rules Committee Explains Rule

(Note: This is the last of four articles explaining the football rules changes, written especially for The Associated Press.)

By WILLIAM S. LANGFORD
Secretary, National Football Rules Committee

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The changes in the kick-off rule which also apply to free kicks (1) allow for a drop-kick, if preferred to a place kick and (2) require at least five players of the receiving team to remain in a zone between their own 45 yard line and the 50 yard line until the kick-off has actually been made. As soon as the ball has been kicked they retire to form interference for the runback or advance to block the opponents.

Under a third provision, the receiving team is accorded the opportunity of making a fair catch and if any of them are in position to reach the ball before it touches the ground they have the right of way and players of the kicker's team must keep out of their way so as not to interfere with this opportunity.

If they should interfere, the fair catch is awarded whether or not the ball is actually caught and a 15-yard penalty is also imposed. This change places the rights of the opposing teams on kick-offs and free-kicks in practically the same category as on kicks from scrimmage.

The regulations governing equipment now prohibit the wearing of knee and elbow pads which are made of any hard or unyielding substance and require that the outside surfaces of hard thigh and shin guards and braces must be covered with soft padding at least three eighths of an inch in thickness. This rule also makes it mandatory for all players to wear soft knee pads.

Hooks and Slides

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Sport knows no thrill that compares with that of the under-dog who suddenly scores a smashing triumph. Like a Pomeranian chasing a mastiff off the premises, Bates walked up and smacked the Yale bulldog between the eyes for a scoreless tie; William and Mary sank the Navy; Virginia Poly garroted Georgia, and Big Red Cornell missed by a scant touchdown the ignominy of defeat at the hands of Niagara.

The custom of major schools opening the season with "practice games" against the little fellows who are supposed to take it on the chin is well established. The big fellows polish up their style on the weaker elevens. The suffering that the players on the minor institutions undergo could very well be written into a book that would surprise many people who are unfamiliar with what a young man in a football suit has to be prepared to put up with.

Scrambled Weights

The big eleven runs rampant over the setup. Players on the smaller teams take all kinds of physical abuse in these games, and are fortunate to come out with whole skins. The same idea would be carried out in boxing if a heavy-weight picked on a light-weight for his first fight of the season in order to "warm up." That makes the victory of a small school in one of the early season games a wonderful triumph.

Yale has been looked upon as one of the great teams of the east this year. An offense has been built around Bob Lassiter, just as the previous Blue teams were constructed around the prowess of little Albie Booth. An injury kept Lassiter on the sidelines during the game with Bates, and the Eli attack bogged down. The little Maine school team, coached by Dave Morey (Major Frank Cavanaugh's former assistant at Fordham), found the Yale weakness and actually put the Bulldog on the defensive during part of the game. A scoreless tie was the result.

But Where Were They?

It is a compliment to the brilliance of the Bates eleven when experts insist that Yale is several touchdowns better than the team appeared to be against the Maine men.

The Navy ran into the same kind of a tangle. Rip Miller's boys spent the afternoon trying to figure out which was William and which was Mary, and finally floundered. Georgia, without the stars of last year, bowed to Virginia Poly, a team that was not expected to give the Bulldog a tussle.

Cornell displayed its need for a healthy Gil Doble. The coach, in bed suffering with sciatica, has been directing the players by remote control. The magic touch of the great teacher was not there.

Army Not So Hot

The West Pointers did not show the strength expected of them against Purman. Major Sasse is looking ahead with foreboding to the visit of the powerful Pitt Panthers that smashed out a decisive victory over West Virginia.

Dr. Spears discovered that he would have to give his Badger some drastic attention after Marquette held the Wisconsin boys to a 7 to 2 score. And Minnesota's two-touchdown victory over South Dakota State indicated that Bernie Bierman has some hard work cut out for him before the Gopher goes anywhere in the Big Ten.

FINAL BOUTS IN D. A. C. RING SHOW DREW BIG CROWD

The Decision Against McReynolds Was Decidedly Unpopular

Friday's finals in the Rock River valley championships were witnessed by a capacity crowd last evening in the Dixon Athletic club. Five valley championships were decided with another bout substituted.

In what turned out to be the feature of the evening, Johnny Becker of Peoria was given the decision over Elwood McReynolds. The verdict was decidedly unpopular with local fans. McReynolds easily had the better of it in the long range skirmishes but Becker repeatedly landed to the mid-section in his boring-in tactics. The judges decided on Becker as the A. A. U. champion.

Chuck Barroughs had a tough time of it in the third round with "Killer" Hess of Woosung. Barroughs was clearly the better man but when the slugger time arrived, the "Killer" was all there. He landed some hard ones in the final round but was too late to swing the decision and Barroughs was the 175 pound winner.

At 118 pounds Jack Smith and Russell Ringenberg, both of Chillicothe, danced and boxed around for three stanzas. Smith apparently has the best footwork and he took away the trophy. Al Yeager registered his third win in three days when he won on a knockout route over Ralph Rafferty of St. David in the second round. Yeager is one of the sweetest boys to appear in a local show and kept up his good work last night.

Del Lipton surprised with a great fight to cop honors in the 126 pound division when he trimmed Gilmore Deschaune of St. David. Lipton had the Deschaune boy down for nine in the second with a terrific punch in the mid-section. This clinched things although Deschaune came back fast but continually ran into Lipton's right. Substituting for the scheduled heavyweight bout Clark Roush of Dixon scored a technical knockout over Leo Hess of Sterling in the first round.

Another indoor show will be offered to fans in two weeks by the D. A. C.

JOE CRONIN TO BOSS SENATORS COMING SEASON

Youthful Shortstop Is Named To Succeed Walt Johnson

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Joe Cronin, youthful star shortstop today was named manager of the Washington American League baseball club to succeed Walter Johnson.

Clark Griffith, owner of the club, said Cronin had been given a one-year contract.

In naming the young shortstop leader of the Senators, Griffith followed the precedent set several years ago in naming Stanley "Bucky" Harris, young second baseman as manager. Harris led Washington to its only world championship.

Cronin came to the Senators in 1928 and became a regular that season. Once a fixture in the lineup he became one of the best infielders in the game, hitting well over 300 and fielding sensationally. Only 26, he will be the youngest manager in the major leagues.

The release of Walter Johnson, manager of the Senators since 1929, was announced this week by Griffith.

F. G. CRAMER, PRESIDENT OF THE CRAMER-KRASSETT COMPANY, OF MILWAUKEE, WIS., says: "That under this changed order of things, a manufacturer has more than the task of creating his products physically. He must make them live in the public mind. This mental property of public acceptance is crucial to success today. Without it no industry, company or product can endure the eliminating processes going on. The manufacturer of a product capable of answering a need in such a manner as to produce greater comfort, convenience, freedom from labor or disease, or one that adds to the joys of living, has a distinct obligation to make that product known to the public. So long as he does not advertise, he is cheating the public and thereby cheating himself."

Newspaper advertising is a preferred instrument to use in building public recognition. From every standpoint—whether in offsetting competition, increasing the flow

FAN ALSO MUST KNOW FOOTBALL SIGNALS

The above sketches interpret the penalty signals a football referee uses to notify the stands of various rule infractions.

BY JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer

The score stands 6 to 0 against the home town team. The local boys have the football on the enemy's four-yard line, with one down to make goal. The ball is snapped, the back plunges over the line, and the fans cheer for dear old Hambone.

But even as the cheer resounds, a figure out in front starts gyrating, his motions resembling those of a whirlwind dervish who has turned cheer and the fair co-ed next to you sighs, "Oh, shucks, what're they doing that for?"

Possibly you are a bit puzzled, too, Looie. But all you have to do is to watch the madly motioning figure on the field, translate his signals and then remember that he's a referee who's telling the sidelines what's the matter.

For the benefit of the fans the referee has a set of signals given with the hands and arms, waved in this direction or that. They are either delivered directly to the stands or through a relay man on the sidelines.

This season new football rules make it harder than ever to follow a football game intelligently. To do this you must know what penalties are inflicted and what they are for.

Following is a list of signals you'll see from time to time in games this year, and the meaning of them:

Military salute—Unnecessary roughness. Penalty 15 yards.

Grasping one wrist—Holding. Penalty 5 yards.

A horizontal arm with the right hand—Player illegally in motion. Penalty 15 yards.

Folded arms—Flying block or tackle. Penalty 5 yards.

Waving hands back—Illegal forward pass. Penalty from loss of down to 15 yards.

Hands on hips—Offside play. Penalty 5 yards if only one team is offside. Penalty void if both teams offside.

Pushing hands and arms vertical—Crawling, pushing, or helping runner. Penalty 5 yards.

Shifting hands horizontally—Incomplete pass, missed goal, or play to be replayed.

Pushing hands from shoulders—Interference with forward pass, also pass that touches player. Penalties, 15 yards if by team making the pass. If by opposing team, ball goes to passing team at spot of foul as first down.

Arms extended above head—A score of any sort.

Even with all these signals, the officials haven't enough to go around. For instance, we can't recall one that signifies a penalty for the failure of a substitute to report to the umpire, or for communicating with fellow players before the ball has been put into play. The penalty for the former is 5 yards, and for the latter 15 yards. Nor can we think of any signal for the overtime-out penalty of 5 yards. The penalties connected with infringement of the fair catch rules, and of the free kick regulations.

Maybe you can send in a few signals to fill out the collection.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington.—The recent death of John Sharp Williams, venerable statesman of Mississippi, perhaps moved the Capital as much as it did his home state.

"The hill" never tired of hearing about Williams or recalling the days he was in Washington, although he quit the Senate in disgust to retire to his home in Yazoo City.

Senator Stephens of Mississippi once told the Senate that never a day passed that some Senator or visitor to Washington sought him out and asked about Williams.

For more than 30 years the Mississippi was a powerful figure in the national life of this country. But it was after he made his now famous statement that he would rather be a bound dog baying at the moon than to continue in the Senate and went back home to "grow old gracefully" that he is perhaps best remembered.

STATE LIKED HIM—They used to have a saying down in Yazoo county that John Sharp Williams was prized more than the postoffice, the courthouse or the Mississippi river. All over the state he was a man marked for special affection.

But he wanted only to be let alone. It was seldom that he broke his silence. When he left the Senate he said he would make no public speeches, but usually he was the first man on the invitation list when Mississippi started something, whether it was a political rally or a public improvement project.

He retained much of his old wit and satire to the last. His reply once to an admirer's praise of him as one of the foremost characters in American public life for the past 50 years was:

"No, you're wrong. I'm not a great man. As I grow older I become more and more convinced that I am like a case of near beer—something like the real article, but lacking in the kick."

WILSON SUPPORTER—Williams' career in the Senate was at times stormy. Fearless and outspoken—he fought a duel once in his student days in Germany. He was one of President Wilson's strongest supporters during the League of Nations fight.

He was hissed and booed in the Senate chamber once when he struck out at Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, declaring that Lodge liked to make a show of himself. He wanted the late Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin expelled from the Senate and the late Socialist Representative Berger interned for their views on the conduct of the World War.

But in his last days he became singularly mellow and docile. One of his last public observations was: "We're all little children, some of us very little children, and others very contemptible little children."

DAILY HEALTH

SHOCK

The condition known as shock is rather difficult to describe, for the reason that it involves the body as a whole in a rather profound way and with many phases.

One of the famous American surgeons aptly described shock as "a rude unbalancing of the entire machinery of life."

To the physician shock appears like a resignation of the individual in the face of overwhelming constitutional insult. The offense against the organism seems too great to be borne and the individual's vitality appears to give up with mute indignation.

Shock may follow in the wake of trauma or injury. A severe blow in the pit of the stomach, a crushing of the legs or other mutilating accident may lead to shock. Certain radical surgery may be followed by it.

The first cousin to shock is collapse. Collapse, too, may follow violent injury or sudden and violent emotions.

Both shock and collapse may prove fatal. In shock the most obvious symptom is a marked fall in blood pressure. This does not always follow immediately upon the injury, but may be delayed for hours.

The individual in shock has usually a sub-normal temperature, his heart action is weak, his pulse is soft and irregular, his lips are pale and his finger tips may turn bluish.

The eyes appear sunken and the face expressionless. The skin is cold and at times clammy. The sufferer is usually conscious but mentally passive.

First aid treatment before the arrival of the doctor requires that the person should be placed flat on his back, wrapped in hot blankets and warmed by hot water bottles and hot bricks. Care should be taken that these do not burn him.

Unless the patient vomits, he may be given hot coffee either to drink, or if he is unable to do so, in the form of an enema. Stimulants are of little or no value.

Dr. Thos. Freeman, Mattoon, is Dead

Mattoon, Ill., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Dr. Thomas Oscar Freeman, 60, Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and an Illinois delegate to the American Medical Association, died at his home early today of a cerebral hemorrhage incurred at work yesterday.

Dr. Freeman, a resident of Mattoon for 32 years and a native of Coles county, was a delegate to the 1924 Democratic national convention and an alternate delegate to the 1932 convention. Only last week he attended a party banquet in Chicago. He was a member of the State Board of Health under Governor Edward Dunne.

His widow, Mrs. Nellie Freeman, is a candidate for the board of trustees of the University of Illinois. Two daughters, Mrs. John Bailey and Mrs. Paul R. Wilkinson of Chicago, also survive him. He will be buried here Sunday.

DISCIPLINSHIP

Daily Text—"If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whosoever would save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life for My sake shall find it." Matt. 15:24

Scripture References: Matt. 10:24-33; Luke 14:25-33; Matt. 28:18-20; John 13: 31-35.

Meditation: Dare we call ourselves Christian in the face of this stern mandate expressed in the daily text? It has been said, "To be a Christian is not just to learn by heart the spoken words of Jesus or to imitate externally the acts reported in the Gospels. It is to reproduce—feebly perhaps yet in a new and individual way—the life behind those words and acts." Have we succeeded? "A disciple is a learner, a follower." Do others recognize me as the disciple of Christ? How may I improve my disciplinship? Disciplinship costs. Its mark is a cross. Does my disciplinship cost me anything of time, money and service? Then, a faithful disciple of Christ is concerned about winning others to become His followers. To what extent am I doing this? In these days of financial and moral depression Christ calls every disciple to a new devotion to Him and His Church. What will be my answer?

Prayer: Renew within us the high sense of our duties to God and men. Give us the abundant life which Thou didst come to bring. May we be led to make it a great and glorious adventure in a world where the need is great and God and men are urging us to do our best. May we hear the challenge of Christ, and with uncalculating devotion give all we have and are for a needy world, in the name of Him who stopped not at the Cross. May we hear Him saying, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me."

Lead on, O Christ of the toilsome way of the market place and the needs of men, of Gethsemane and Calvary, and give us strength and grace to follow thee! Amen.

Children born on this day should be well adapted and gain much, through association with others in professional pursuits. They should be careful during the month of May, in any year.

Cervantes the Author of "Don Quixote" was born on this date, 1547. Others who have also celebrated it as a birthday, include Leonard Wood, 1860, American soldier and Edward W. Bok, 1863, American magazine editor and writer.

Those whose birthday it is should find much pleasure in meditation; they may be successful as teachers; they will have many opportunities to receive an education. Aside from the international depression, they are just emerging from two unfavorable years.

HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, Oct. 8, 1932

OPPORTUNITY to win a success today is indicated by the planets. According to astrology it is stated that excellent results may be obtained, although impulsive acts are to be avoided. There is some danger of serious accidents affecting aviators, electricians and scientific workers.

During the early morning hours benefits may be received by those in shipping and export circles.

Politicians have only thirty remaining days to convince the public of their ability and standing before they seek place use of these days for definite results by keeping to altruistic motives and scientific facts.

It is not good for speculative purposes until after 4 o'clock, this one's business should be conducted only on very conservative lines. Impulsive action is sure to cause loss.

Signs of trouble appear for mechanical workers and those in the building trades; not a time for serious operations; all arguments should be strictly avoided during the afternoon.

The armament question may be involved in serious disputes at this time.

Astrologers, who prophesy possible prosperity in the coming winter, foretell two or three years in which wise conservation should be practiced in order to recover from the results of the world's greatest depression.

Persons whose birthday this is, will find that their success lies in their ability to do careful and accurate work. Their innate powers trend chiefly to personal service and the ability to handle money. They would do well in secretarial work.

Children born on this day probably will have excellent health and mentality although they may be inclined to be reckless and given to rash actions. They have quick and retentive minds.

John Hay, American statesman was born on this date, 1839. Others who have celebrated it as a

"BIG GUNS" OF REPUBLICANISM ARE OPENING UP

Bombardment Of Democrats Now Proceeds On Every Front

Chicago, Oct. 8—(AP)—With just one month of campaigning left to go, Republican leaders have put their "big Guns" to work on the prairies of the midwest.

The leading speakers of the party, including seven members of President Hoover's cabinet, have been assigned to the conquest of the farmer vote. Working with them are no less than a score of national known speakers.

The President himself, just back in Washington from his opening campaign speech in agricultural Iowa, has been scheduled for at least one and perhaps two more speeches in the central states.

Campaign directors at national headquarters here said today the drive for votes will be continued with gathering intensity until election day in every doubtful middle west state.

Sec. Wilbur Adds

Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur it was announced will join next week with the host of Republican orators already afield. Starting with an address at Cincinnati next Monday, Wilbur will make 12 speeches during the next 11 days in Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, and Iowa.

Already embarked on rigorous tours are Secretary of War Hurley, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Secretary of Treasury Mills, and Assistant Secretary of Navy Jahnke—all in pursuit of the farm vote.

Secretary of Commerce Clegg and Secretary of Labor Doak will join them in the midwest without another fortnight.

Coolidge To Speak

Just as President Hoover's Des Moines, Ia., appearance served as the starting gun of the Republican drive in the middle west, campaign directors said, so will be Calvin Coolidge's radio address next Tuesday night, be the formal opening wedge in the campaign.

Mr. Hoover, busy with affairs at Washington but conferring often by long distance telephone with party leaders here, probably will make his only eastern address at Boston late in the campaign, it has been indicated, and also will journey west to Minneapolis or Cleveland, or perhaps both.

Following is a partial schedule of speaking dates booked for campaign headquarters here for the more prominent campaigners:

Secretary of Interior, Wilbur, Oct. 12 at Rockford, Ill., Oct. 13 at Detroit and Ann Arbor, Mich., and on subsequent days at Monticello, Ill., Alton, Ill., Chicago, Iowa City, Ia., LaFayette, Ia., Chicago, and Indianapolis.

The Funniest Sayings of ABE MARTIN As Selected By George Ade

Lancaster and Mrs. Miller Will Leave
 Washington, Oct. 7—(AP)—The Labor Department today dismissed deportation warrants against Capt. W. N. Lancaster and Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller with the understanding they would voluntarily leave the country next Friday.

Officials at the Labor Department said the case was closed so far as they were concerned, and attorneys for the Australian flier and Mrs. Miller said they had booked passage for Friday.

Deportation warrants were sworn out against the two after the trial and acquittal of Captain Lancaster on charges of having killed Haden Clarke, a writer, at Miami.

Labor officials later investigated reports that the two had been parties to smuggling of aliens into the country from Cuba, but no action was taken.

The Labor Department said this phase of the case was being dropped as well as the deportation action.

"I'm allus glad when my husbands git killed by autos, fer then I hain't accused o' poisonin' 'em," said Mrs. Em Painter, as she left the cemetery. A hustler never complains.

BISHOP CANNON QUESTIONS BOTH NOMINEES TODAY

Wants To Know What Is Program To Prevent Saloon's Return

Washington, Oct. 8—(AP)—President Hoover and Governor Roosevelt have been requested by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and four associates to state their specific plans for preventing the return of the saloon and for protecting dry states if existing prohibition laws are revised.

Letters to the presidential candidates were made public last night by Bishop Cannon. Both candidates were quoted as being opposed to return of the saloon and then asked:

"When the federal brand of criminal is removed from the beverage liquor traffic and that traffic is again legalized, what definite specific plan do you intend to propose to prevent the return of the infamous intolerable saloon system which admittedly was smashed by the adoption of the eighteenth amendment?"

Asked specific method do you intend to propose to protect the dry states?"

Each nominee also was asked whether he will "stand for the retention of the eighteenth amendment x x x if after very careful consideration you find yourself unable to propose any definite plan which will effectively prevent the return of the saloon or its equivalent and will effectively protect the dry states."

Another question directed at each candidate was whether pending any change in the present prohibition regime, he, as President, would "call upon Congress to supply adequate funds for as effective enforcement of the eighteenth amendment as of other laws."

President Hoover was asked if he would recommend any modification in the Volstead Act, and whether he would sign or veto any such modification passed by Congress on its own initiative.

Governor Roosevelt was asked if the modification in the Volstead act demanded by the Democratic platform would not "inevitably greatly increase the difficulties of effective prohibition enforcement, which the President of the United States swear to uphold x x x and moreover utterly fail to satisfy those clamoring for modification of the law x x x."

CALL OF THE WEST

BEHOLD HERE TODAY

STANLEY BLACK, once a desperado, once a king of crooked gamblers and of having men shot who try to check up on his activities, now is making a check and tells his wife he will personally prevent it. Upon leaving his office he leaves DONA, his daughter, from kidnappers. He slips away when he finds who she is, telling her his name is STANLEY BLACK.

DUDLEY WINTERS, in love with Dona, goes with her to Three Rivers to persuade her to abandon the fight with him. He tries to get her to marry him on the way as a means of getting her to give up his plans. Dona narrowly escapes him by meeting Stanley on his way to the timber camp. They find each other in a timber camp. Dudley refuses to stay in bed. Dona tells him she has just married Dudley to keep him out of the timber camp.

Ball comes in for supplies and is captured by WINTERS. He escapes after hearing Dona tell her father she is Stanley's wife. Dudley insists on real marriage but Dona holds back. She rides out to see if she can find Stanley Black, who she thinks is at Blind River. She meets him on the trail, not knowing he is Stanley. He promises to ride the range of Stan Hall.

H. S. Enrollment Shows Increase

Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—High school enrollment jumped 99.9 per cent between 1920 and 1930, a decade which brought more children to America's schools and kept more of them in daily classes.

These are figures of the federal office of education, prepared from statistics of state school systems. They show that while high school enrollment went up nearly 100 per cent, the elementary school rolls increased only 10 per cent.

SILVER LINING IN BUSINESS IS SEEN BY BANKS

Financiers End Their Convention With Optimism

Los Angeles, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The nation's bankers see a silver lining in the clouds that have obscured the sun of business prosperity for many months.

Led by their new president, Francis H. Sisson of New York, members of the American Bankers Association express the belief the worst of the depression is over. The fifty-eighth annual convention of the association ended last night.

"The advance that has taken place in prices of stocks, bonds and commodities," Sisson said, "has spelled genuine improvement from the bankers' point of view, and even more reassuring is the disappearance of the panicky spirit of a few months ago."

Tax reduction was asked in a resolution adopted by the gathering.

Describing taxation as the "assault of society on the pocketbook of the unforgotten man," Paul Shoup, vice chairman of the Southern Pacific Company, delivered the final address before the convention.

"This unforgotten man," Shoup said, "is everybody, if he spends any money at all. He can not move his automobile, ride on a train, smoke a cigaret, eat dinner or go to a show without directly or indirectly making his contribution."

Preceding Shoup's address, the Economic Policy Commission placed the association on record in opposition to proposals for United Federal control over all commercial banks, in place of the present dual system of state and national banks.
